Taken from “God, What About Me?” Devotion

“While we’re waiting on God to answer, what we see physically will challenge our faith in God because there will not always be physical evidence of what we are believing for Him to do. In those times remember that We live by faith and not by sight. We make our decisions on the foundation of faith in God, not by the limitations of our current situation.”

Thoughts to Ponder

Far too many parents are more concerned with their children making the team than making the Kingdom.

We’ll rearrange our schedules for practice, games, birthday parties, vacations, and eating out. We’ll drive hundreds of miles for a tournament without thinking twice.

But church?

Sometimes it’s the first thing we cancel.

Your children don’t just need you.

They need youth pastors who will remind them they're loved when the world tells them otherwise.

They need friends who love Jesus.

And they need to sit under God’s Word week after week until it becomes the foundation beneath their feet.

God never intended for parents to disciple their children alone. He created the church so we’d raise the next generation together.

One day our children will leave our homes. My prayer is that when they do, they won’t just know how to throw a baseball, swing a golf club, solve an algebra problem, or earn a paycheck...

They’ll know Jesus.

“Train up a child in the way he should go; even when he is old he will not depart from it.” Proverbs 22:6
